Cradle of Culture

Anaadyanta dates way back to 2004 when it first made a debut. This techno-cultural fest not only hosts students from various colleges and universities to showcase their talents and ideas, but it also connects students from the same and different colleges alike. It helps gather fresh memories, celebrate traditions and dare we say, life itself.

With "Cradle of Culture", we shall celebrate the various, dynamic, and distinctive cultures of India. From a very young age, we have imbibed the essence of unity in diversity, recognizing the immense value it brings and now we are gathering to celebrate it.
